

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN NURSING (BSCN)

Degree | 8 semesters | Barrydowne

Want a career where you'll be in demand, earn a good salary, make a difference in your community, and have access to national and international job opportunities? Earn your Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree through Cambrian, and you'll have the skills, knowledge, and practical experience to take on nursing roles in hospitals, long-term care settings, community care centres, and other health organizations.

The Laurentian University Four-Year Collaborative Nursing Program, in collaboration with Laurentian University, Northern College, St. Lawrence College, Sault College and Cambrian College, combines courses in the humanities, sciences, and social sciences with preparation in the theory and practice of nursing. Clinical experiences in hospitals and community health care agencies during the program enable you to put into practice the knowledge and skills learned in classes. You will have the opportunity to work with physicians, dietitians, physiotherapists, and members of other health care disciplines.

Program Highlights

- 4 years – 8 semesters
- Placements in a variety of healthcare settings
- Hands-on training in Cambrian's high-tech nursing lab
- Participate in community health promotion projects such as health fairs

Fieldwork/Placement

Throughout the program, you will have a rotation of clinical placements in hospitals, long-term care facilities, and community agencies. You must be prepared to cover any costs incurred with clinical placements in-town and out-of-town. Agency placements may occur on all shifts, especially during preceptorship rotations in semesters 7 and 8.
