COMMUNITY AND HEALTH SERVICES NAVIGATION (CHSN)

Ontario College Graduate Certificate | 3 semesters | Barrydowne

Navigators assist people in accessing a variety of supports across the lifespan, including, but not limited to, mental health support, legal support, health care and financial support. Support is often required during transitional points of care, such as youth transitioning to adult services or an older adult preparing to enter long-term care. Accessing services and transitioning between types of care can be complicated and frustrating. Navigators, also referred to as care coordinators or case managers, serve as a guide to help people obtain the help they need.

As a student in the program, you will build expertise in how to locate resources within your community as well as provincially. You’ll have the opportunity to network with a multitude of guest speakers across a variety of sectors to help you build connections with professionals in the field.

You will also gain the skills to be an effective and compassionate listener to help people in dealing with frustrations they may encounter throughout their journey. You’ll also learn how to provide brief interventions such as motivational interviewing to support individuals as they wait to receive the services they require.

Students with backgrounds in the helping profession may choose to complete the program to enhance their expertise. Fast-track options may be available through the Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) and/or via Advanced Standing for students with related work experience or a related diploma/degree.

Program Highlights

- 9-month post-graduate certificate
  - Students must have a minimum 2-year diploma or degree to be eligible
- 6-week unpaid placement to apply learning
  - Students currently working in a helping profession may be eligible to apply to complete a capstone project within their work environment

Program Delivery

2020-2021

This program will be delivered in the following terms:

Fall Term Start
1. SEMESTER 1 Fall 2020
2. SEMESTER 2 Winter 2021
3. SEMESTER 3 Spring 2021

Delivery Format
At Cambrian College, HyFlex delivery of courses and programs refers to student choice about how they experience lectures, content, and activities. In a HyFlex course, a student can choose to learn using a variety of delivery modes as follows:

- Live, in-person – face-to-face classroom attendance occurs at the regularly scheduled time for lecture and activities
- Live, virtual (synchronous) lecture – attendance occurs through use of a computer or mobile device and web conferencing (webcast) software during live lecture and discussion activities
- Asynchronous review – students can review the recorded lecture (at a later time of their choosing after the lecture has been captured)
- Fully online asynchronous participation – students choose to work independently of live lectures throughout the course*

Faculty members will provide a common Moodle course shell for all students (no matter what delivery mode a student selects).

HyFlex courses take place during regular Cambrian College terms (fall, winter, or summer). Students and faculty members in HyFlex courses are subject to the same Cambrian College academic policies, expectations, and deadlines, as all Cambrian College courses. Evaluation expectations and policies will be communicated by faculty members at the start of each course.

* Important Note for International Students:

Given existing policies related to the issuing of study permits, International Students must verify the impact of online delivery on their study permits.

For specific term start/end dates and other key dates/deadlines, please see the Academic Schedule (http://cambriancollege.ca/apply/how-to-apply/academic-schedule) posted on our website.
